

Shri Varun Kapoor, IPS
IGP and Director, Police Radio Training School,
Indore

5 November 2014

Dear Shri Kapoor,

Freeland would like to express its appreciation for the excellent facilities provided by the Police Radio Training School (PRTS), Indore, during the four-day wildlife crime investigation training conducted by Freeland from 15 – 18 October 2014.

The venue preparation, logistics, trainee selection, local transport, meals and accommodation were all done with high standards of professionalism, dedication and attention to detail. We deeply appreciate how enthusiastically the staff and officials of the PRTS worked towards making the training a success, including setting up new and unfamiliar training scenarios.

All arrangements, including complicated real-time, roleplaying scenarios were smoothly managed. Your officials and staff are to be commended for the care they took, and we appreciate the enthusiasm, mentoring and guidance you provide to them to ensure standards are kept high.

We look forward to future collaboration with the PRTS, and hope to have a new generation of police and forest officials in tiger sensitive areas trained on the latest investigation techniques.

Yours sincerely,
